

Dubai Real Estate Market Analysis 2023

Comprehensive data-driven insights into property trends, pricing patterns, and investment opportunities across Dubai's residential market

Market Overview: Key Metrics

2.02M

Average Price

AED per property

1.35M

Median Price

AED per property

33%

Price Gap

Due to luxury outliers

32

Extreme Outliers

Properties 50× average

Market skewed by ultra-luxury properties in Palm Jumeirah and World Islands

Price Distribution Analysis

Market Composition

- Cheap: 41% below $300K
- Mid: 49% $300K-$1M
- Luxury: 10% above $1M

~90% non-luxury transactions

Most Expensive Locations

Palm Jumeirah

High transaction volume with premium pricing

World Islands

Ultra-luxury properties, limited transactions

Tecom Area

Commercial-residential mix, elevated pricing

Most Liquid Areas

Top transaction activity for quick resale opportunities

Property Type Pricing

Price per Square Meter

1. Apartments: Highest per sq.m
2. Villas: Premium pricing
3. Townhouses: Mid-range

Location and demand drive apartment premiums

Market Stability in 2023

1 — Early 2023
Minor fluctuations

2 — Mid 2023
Stable plateau

3 — Late 2023
No clear trend

Stable market suitable for medium-term investment strategies

Extreme Luxury Outliers

Maximum Price

AED (~$136M USD)

Price Multiple

Some properties exceed average

Outliers

Properties 50x average

Ultra-luxury properties in Palm Jumeirah require separate analysis

Investment Opportunities

Focus on Mid-Range

90% market share, stable demand for consistent returns

Target High Liquidity

JVC, Business Bay, Dubai Marina for quick resale

Consider Undervalued Areas

Locations priced below Dubai average with growth potential

Key Takeaways

01

Use Median, Not Average

33% lower than average due to luxury skew

03

Liquidity Matters

JVC leads with 14.5% market share

02

Mid-Range Dominance

Focus on $300K-$1M segment for stable returns

04

Monitor Stability

Minor fluctuations, no clear trend in 2023